

THE BIG POPULATION DEBATE

Will Melbourne still be the most liveable city by 2050?

ROBERT DOYLE, Melbourne's Lord Mayor

"Population growth is inevitable in our great urban centres so we need to plan for it."

AND

KELVIN THOMSON, MP, President, Victoria First

"Population growth is neither inevitable nor desirable, it damages our way of life and our children's future."

Moderator : MICHAEL SHORT

The Age Editor of "The Zone"

with open mike for questions

DEAKIN EDGE, FEDERATION SQUARE
MONDAY 13TH OCTOBER 2014

COMMENCING 5.30 pm sharp until 7 pm

FREE ENTRY

Brought to you by Planning Backlash, a coalition of Melbourne's community and resident groups